Case No. 3:17-cv-01457

NOTICE OF REMOVAL OF ACTION
UNDER 28 U.S.C. § 1441 (A) (FEDERAL QUESTION)

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 TO THE CLERK OF THE ABOVE-ENTITLED COURT:

2 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that Defendants Thermo Fisher Scientific, Inc., Life Technologies
3 Corporation, and Applied Biosystems, LLC (collectively “Defendants”) hereby remove to this Court the 4 state court action described below.

5 On December 19, 2016, Plaintiff Fluidigm Corporation (“Fluidigm”) filed an action against
6 Defendants in the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of San Mateo. That action was
7 styled Fluidigm Corp. v. Thermo Fisher Scientific, Inc., et al, Case No. 16-CIV-02918. The Complaint
8 in the action was served on Defendants on February 17, 2017. A copy of the Complaint is attached
9 hereto as Exhibit A.

10 The Complaint asserts breach by Defendants of a Patent Cross-License Agreement
11 (“Agreement”). The Agreement is the sole basis for all of the Plaintiff’s claims.

12 I. JURISDICTION

13 The Complaint pleads breach of contract and breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing
14 for alleged failure to pay royalties under the Agreement. The Agreement defines the royalty obligation
15 based on the scope of patent rights. In other words, whether a product is subject to the royalty obligation
16 (and whether Defendants have breached the Agreement by not paying royalties) turns on whether or not
17 the product would, but for the license, infringe the licensed patents. The Complaint thus directly raises a
18 federal question arising under federal patent laws and this Court has jurisdiction under 35 U.S.C. § 1338.
19 Accordingly, this is a case that may be removed to this Court by Defendants pursuant to 35 U.S.C. §
20 1441(a).

21 II. INTRADISTRICT ASSIGNMENT

22 As this Complaint was filed in the City and County of San Mateo, assignment to the San 23 Francisco Division of the United States District Court for the Northern District of California is proper.

24 III. PLAINTIFF’S COMPLAINT MAKES CLEAR THAT THIS CASE BELONGS IN FEDERAL COURT

25 Fluidigm asserts breach by Defendants of a Patent Cross-License Agreement. The basis for 26 Fluidigm’s claims is that “[t]he Agreement provides . . . for the payment of running worldwide royalties
27 to Plaintiff based ‘on Net Sales of Instruments sold by [defendant Applied Biosystems, LLC] and its 28

1 Affiliates” and “based ‘on Net Sales of Consumables sold by [defendant Applied Biosystems, LLC] and
 2 its Affiliates,’” that all of Defendants’ “Instruments” and “Consumables” must be accounted for when
 3 determining royalties due, and that Defendants have at various times failed to do this. Ex. A ¶¶ 14-28.
 4 Fluidigm’s Complaint further asserts that a list of specific products marketed and sold by Defendants are
 5 “Instruments” under the Agreement. Id. ¶ 29.

6 Though the Complaint attempts to gloss over this issue, the Agreement’s definitions of both
 7 “Instruments” and “Consumables” turn on whether the products in question would, if unlicensed, infringe
 8 or are covered by one or more valid claims of particular United States Patents.¹ Thus, answering the 9 question whether or not Defendants have breached the Agreement by failing to properly include the 10 products listed in paragraph 29 of the Complaint within the definition of Instruments, and whether any
 11 other of Defendants’ products are “Instruments” or “Consumables” under the Agreement, necessarily 12 requires determining patent scope and coverage. And of course, Defendants intend to raise all
 13 appropriate defenses to Fluidigm’s claims, including inter alia that the products-at-issue do not infringe
 14 and are not covered by the relevant patents.

15 Federal jurisdiction under 35 U.S.C. § 1338 extends to cases where “the plaintiff’s right to relief
 16 necessarily depends on resolution of a substantial question of federal patent law, in that patent law is a
 17 necessary element of one of the well-pleaded claims.” Christianson v. Colt Indus. Operating Corp., 486
 18 U.S. 800, 809 (1988). Infringement is a substantial issue of federal patent law. Hunter Douglas, Inc. v.
 19 Harmonic Design, Inc., 153 F.3d 1318, 1329, 30 (Fed. Cir. 1998), overruled by Midwest Indus., Inc. v.
 20 Karavan Trailers, Inc., 175 F.3d 1356, 1358-61 (Fed. Cir. 1999). Where an element of an asserted state
 21 law claim necessarily entails a determination of infringement or non-infringement, a district court has 22 jurisdiction. Additive Controls & Measurement Sys., Inc. v. Flowdata, Inc., 986 F.2d 476, 477-78 (Fed
 23 Cir. 1993) (case properly removed where a state law business disparagement claim required plaintiff to 24 prove that it does not infringe a patent); Scherbatetskoy v. Halliburton Co., 125 F.3d 288, 291 (5th Cir.
 25

26¹ Because the Agreement has a confidentiality provision, and because a protective order has not yet
 27 been entered in this case, Defendants are not attaching the Agreement to this Notice, and instead
 28 summarize its relevant provisions here as Fluidigm does in its Complaint.

1 1997) (case properly removed where plaintiff's complaint alleges that defendant breached a contract
2 where it failed to pay royalties under a license agreement on products plaintiff alleged infringed the
3 patents covered by the agreement); Jang v. Boston Sci. Corp., 767 F.3d 1334, 1336-37 (Fed. Cir. 2014) (a
4 contract case necessarily implicating underlying issues of infringement arises under the patent laws).

5 IV. JURY TRIAL DEMAND

6 Defendants demand a jury trial on all issues so triable.

7 V. ALL CO-DEFENDANTS JOIN IN REMOVAL

8 The undersigned represents all three co-defendants in this case and certifies that all three consent
9 to removal of this case to federal court.

10 VI. CONCLUSION

11 For the reasons stated above, this matter is properly removed to federal court, exclusive
12 jurisdiction.
